Message From the President

OBAMA Care & Our Community

The Obama administration will let people with health insurance plans that don't comply with Affordable Care Act standards keep them through October 2017 if their states allow it, officials said Wednesday in announcing. The administration also extended Obama care's open enrollment for next year by a month-it now will run from Nov. 15, 2014, until Feb. 15, 2015. And it is giving insurers additional financial help to offset the costs of benefits claims from new ACA enrollees, with the goal of keeping Obama care premiums "affordable" in coming years, officials said.

Board Chairman's Inaugural Statement

Fellow Liberians, Pre-Easter greetings to all of you on behalf of the Board of Directors and in my own name. It is our ardent hope that all of us will celebrate the coming Easter in a spirit of love, unity, and oneness.

Every two years, our By-laws and Constitutions allow us the opportunity to exercise our rights to vote as community members and inaugurate new leaders to lead our community. More than a decade ago, our community was led by a gifted and talented young woman. Under her leadership, our community enjoyed and celebrated an oasis of peace, unity and togetherness. Today, we still enjoy this unity because of the foundation that she and her leadership team established. Time in memorial, our community have elected leaders who have embraced and perpetuated the fundamental rudiments of our unity. For this, we remain grateful to all of our leaders, past and present.

Tonight, we've gathered to inaugurate another daughter of our community as President. The elections of a second female President is evident that our democracy is maturing and our community is headed in the right direction as it seeks to encourage and enhance gender equality, which has become a 21st Century phenomenon.

Fellow Liberians, allow me to encourage each one of us to support our leaders and do are very best to help our community succeed. It behooves all of us, Liberians to generate within ourselves the desire to get involve in the development of our community. This community belongs to all of us regardless of our personal interests and associations. One way that we can get involve in the development of our community is by supporting the current administration in its pursuit to galvanize all Liberians under the banner of "Active Participation".

Therefore, on behalf of the Board of Directors, I would like to thank each one of you for your willingness to support your leaders and get involve in the development of our community.

We wish you all a HAPPY and JOYOUS EASTER.
